

TRAVEL HEALTH CONSULTATION

Information & Fees Guide

Before Your Appointment

Thank you for booking a travel health consultation.

Vaccination recommendations are tailored to you and depend on:

- Your destination(s)
- Length of travel
- Planned activities
- Medical history
- Previous vaccinations

Please bring any vaccination records you have at home, as these may not always appear on the Australian Immunisation Register.

Consultation Fees

Your total cost includes the doctor's consultation and any vaccines required.

Long Consultation (30 minutes)

$179.90 ($84.90 Medicare rebate)

Allows time for a thorough discussion of your travel health risks.

Additional Notes:

- Shorter consultations may be charged at a reduced rate if appropriate
- Reduced fees may apply for additional family members seen in the same booking
- Fees are primarily based on total time spent with the doctor

Vaccine Availability

Most common travel vaccines are available on-site, including:

- Hepatitis A
- Typhoid
- Tetanus

Less commonly required vaccines (e.g. Rabies, Hepatitis B, Yellow Fever) are also typically stocked in limited quantities.

In most cases, consultation and vaccination can be completed in one visit.

Vaccine Fees (as of August 2026)

Vaccine	$ Cost (per dose)	Notes
Tetanus / Whooping Cough	$68.29	—
Hepatitis A	$98.16	—
Typhoid	$133.84	—
Hepatitis B	$67.93 each	1–3 doses required, depending on immunisation history
Yellow Fever	$187.31 each	—
Rabies	$168.10 each	Typically, 2–3 doses required

Private Health Insurance

If you have private health insurance with Extras cover, vaccines may be partially claimable under pharmaceuticals.

Please check with your provider for eligibility.

Alternative Option: Pharmacy Supply

You may choose to:

1. Receive a prescription after your consultation
2. Purchase vaccines from a pharmacy (pricing may vary)
3. Return for a nurse appointment for administration

Please let reception know at the time of booking if you prefer this option.

Summary

- Bring your vaccination records
- Allow up to 45 minutes for your consultation
- Most vaccines can be given on the day
- Ask about pharmacy options if preferred

For any questions prior to your appointment, please contact reception on 7032 9506.
